

SUMMERTIME means a lot of things . . . a few weeks of leisure basking on a beach . . . a camping and exploration trip into a remote (anywhere without trolley buses is remote) part of the country . . . even an adventure overseas . . . or perhaps a battle with the books during the six weeks of Summer Session. This year the lure of Expo 67 and Canada's Centennial celebrations seem to have been too much for many people who ordinarily chose the latter "holiday." But despite a drop in registration of more than 500 from last year, 3,385 students took about 190 different courses this summer. A recent relaxation in certification requirements for immigrant teachers has also attributed to the decrease in registration.

"The Year of the Non-Conference" is an experiment in substituting, for the Commission's annual conference, inspection of schools at which many of the theories expounded at the conferences are actually being put into practise.

The four Edmonton schools which have volunteered—and been accepted—as demonstration centres are Capilano, Delwood, McKee, and Youngstown. All are elementary schools.

Former Chancellor dies

Lawrence Yoemans Cairns, Chancellor of the University from 1958 until 1964, died July 28 at The University of Alberta Hospital.

He was born in Winnipeg in 1892, and moved to Edmonton in 1908 in time to become a member of the new University's first graduating class. He graduated in 1912, and in 1915 was awarded his degree in Law. The same year enlisted in the Canadian Field Artillery. Upon his discharge, in 1919, after having fought in France and Belgium, he returned to practise law with the same firm with which he had articulated and in which he was to become a partner. In 1934 he was appointed King's Counsel. For several years before his retirement in 1965, he served as judge of the District Court in Edmonton.

He had joined the staff of the University in the early thirties, and his teaching career in the faculties of Law and Commerce spanned 20 years. He also maintained an active interest in the Alumni Association, was once its president, and was one of the founding members of the Friends of the University.

The lawyer, judge, teacher, and noted public speaker was the recipient of an Honorary Doctor of Laws degree in 1955, and was elected Chancellor of the University three years later.

University Guide

Two items in the University Guide series, Guides 201 and 202, are enclosed with this issue of FOLIO.

Guide 201 is a new map of the campus, and directory to office locations.

Guide 202 is a list of office telephones. It is intended primarily for distribution outside the University, and may be used, for example, to provide commercial organizations with a University telephone list without distributing the private numbers of staff members listed in the main Directory.

Additional copies of both Guides may be obtained from the Public Relations Officer, local 4201.

Worth appointed Vice-President

The new positions are part of a definite plan to provide more senior administrative personnel to meet the needs of rapid growth and development.

Dr. Worth has been associated with the University since 1955, as Assistant and Associate Professor of Education; Professor and Head, Department of Elementary Education; and as Associate Dean, Planning and Development, of the Faculty of Education.

Appointed to Killam Chairs

Two distinguished scientists have been appointed to the new Killam Memorial Chairs, it was announced recently.

Dr. John Arthur Jacobs, Professor and Head of the Department of Geophysics and Director of the Institute of Earth Sciences, University of British Columbia, has been appointed to the Killam Memorial Chair at The University of Alberta. Dr. James Birkett Cragg, former director of the Merlewood Research Station, The Nature Conservancy, Grange-over-Sands, Lancashire, England, will go to The University of Calgary.

The Killam Memorial Chairs were established under the terms of the will of the late Mrs. I. W. Killam, whose husband had extensive business interests in Alberta and throughout Canada. They are part of the endowment of more than $11,500,000 received by The University of Alberta under the terms of the will.

Dr. Jacobs studied at University College, London, England, which also awarded him an honorary Doctor of Science degree in recognition of his contribution in the field of geophysics.

He has been Head of the Department of Geophysics at British Columbia since 1963. Previously, he taught applied mathematics and later geophysics at The University of Toronto. He served in the Royal Navy before coming to Canada.

Grants procedure outlined

Dr. A. G. McCalla, Dean of the Faculty of Graduate Studies and Administrative Officer of Research, has announced the procedures that will be followed by his office in facilitating applications for grants in aid of research. Dr. McCalla is now signing officer, on behalf of the President, for all such applications.

Dr. McCalla hopes to be able to supply as much information as possible on sources of research grant money. His office is accumulating matter of this sort, and faculty members are invited to consult it.

He has indicated that applications for research funds must be complete in all respects before being submitted for signature. A copy of each application should be provided for his files; this may be a Xerox. Sufficient time before deadline must be allowed so the application may be properly reviewed. Applications, once signed, will be returned to the department for direct mailing.

Further information may be obtained from department heads, and from the Graduate Studies Office.

Awards

Because of the limited time generally available to reply to the notices published here, and the nuisance involved in writing for additional details, FOLIO will attempt to publish in full the more important notices received. The original announcements may be examined at the Public Relations Office, Administration Building.

ROYAL SOCIETY AND NUFFIELD FOUNDATION COMMONWEALTH BURSARIES

Applications are invited for awards under the Royal Society and Nuffield Foundation Commonwealth Bursaries Scheme, which was instituted to provide facilities for increasing the efficiency of scientists of proven worth by enabling them to pursue research, learn techniques or follow other forms of study in natural science and its application, in countries other than their own in the Commonwealth where the physical or personal environment or both are peculiarly favourable. Of the available funds about one-half is earmarked to assist movement (a) between Commonwealth countries other than the United Kingdom, and (b) outwards from the United Kingdom, and applications relating to these parts of the scheme are especially invited.

The bursaries provide travel, maintenance at a rate depending on the applicant's circumstances and living costs in the country concerned (on the basis of about 600 pounds a year in the United Kingdom) and are tenable usually for periods of two to twelve months; they are not intended to provide any salary as such. Bursars will not be permitted to prepare specifically for, or to take examinations for, higher degrees or diplomas.

For proposed visits beginning during the period from January to June, 1968 or later, applications must be received complete with supporting documents not later than September 15, 1967, by the Executive Secretary, The Royal Society, 6 Carlton House Terrace, London, S.W. 1, from whom application forms and fuller particulars may be obtained.

Personal notices

Staff members may forward notices to reach the Editor two weeks prior to publication. They must be typed, and not exceed 35 words (including heading). Advertisements received will be published at the Editor's discretion.
